

I don't think any changes should be made to current law. I can see an obvious improvement in my family's time at dinner. I consistently received 1-3 calls each nite, often as we ate dinner together. Now, there are entire weeks that pass with no solicitors calling. I have never purchased anything offered by a phone solicitor and never intend to. Please don't let them back into my home.